A fine story of present day heroism comes to the Rochester Post Express from the African wilds, where the British have been fighting the Matabele, and giving rise to a good many stories of oppression and unchristian conquest. The story is the stronger because it is told by a Matabele warrior, an eye-witness of the scene that no Englishman lives to relate. A vanguard of British invaders, under command of Major Wilson, had been too venturesome, and a horde of Matabele attacked and surrounded them. Soon only a few of the British were left, and, as the supreme moment came, those who were able to stand rose to their feet, stood shoulder to shoulder, took off their hats and joined in a song—"the kind of song that he (the native narrator) had heard missionaries sing to natives." The British ammunition was gone, the last had perished; there was nothing to do but to die, and the singers were soon dead. It is loyally said in England that the song must have been "God Save the Queen," but from what the native said, and the natural impulse at such a time, it seems quite as likely, to an outsider, that it was a church hymn. But either way it makes a fine picture, worthy of English speaking people.

Says the New York World: "It is now pretty generally known that there is to be a great celebration at the close of the nineteenth century, and is happening in of the twentieth. A great deal of effort is being made to carry out a very unique, though grand plan. It is proposed that the Columbian Liberty and Peace Bell be rung on the spot where the shepherds heard the chorus of angelic voices proclaim: 'Peace on earth, good will towards men.' The idea is to have the bell connected to all parts of the world by telegraph and cable. Then, at a specified time, all telegraphic business is to be suspended, every congregation in the religious world to be assembled in its place of meeting, each having a wire connected with the Jerusalem device, and simultaneously the bell be rung and the message of 'peace' be dashed over the earth.

diety of our friends in heaven, we will not only have to travel a path of faith and a path of tribulation, but we will also have to positively battle for their companionship. David and his men never wanted sharp swords, and they never wanted armor, but they wanted breastplates so much as they wanted them, that when they came down upon the Amelittes, if they had lost that battle, they never would have got their families back. I suppose that one glance at their loved ones in captivity hurried them into the battle with tenfold courage and energy. They said: "We must die it. Every day we die a little more, and each one takes a man on point of spear or sword. We must win it." And I have to tell you that between us and coming into the companionship of our loved ones who are

Gold Rapidly Dwindling.
The treasury department was advised last Wednesday afternoon that $2,500,000 had been engaged at the New York subtreasury for export to Europe. This reduces the gold reserve below $27,000,000.

Reported From Various Towns
Ohio—Ten Lives Lost
Severe storms visited Massillon, Cleveland and Alliance, O.; Decatur, Ill.; Indianapolis and Patriot, Ind.; Bloomington, Ill.; Kalamazoo, Mich. and Wabash, Ind., Friday. Considerable damage was done to property. From meager reports which have straggled in, it is already learned that ten persons met death and thirteen were injured. The property was

A Strike Declared Off.

The central committee of ribbon weavers at Patterson, N. J., declared the strike off after a desperate struggle of eleven weeks. A majority of the operatives of the mills of the William Strange company and Levy Bros. went back to their looms.

It is possible for us to quarrel about religion, for if we have got real religion.

Governor Mitchell has appointed the following delegates to represent Florida in the southern industrial and immigration convention, which will convene at Augusta, Ga., May 30th: Colonel D. H. Elliott, of Sanford; Colonel John Bradford, of Bradfordville, and Hon. John N. Stockton, Mississippi Valley railroad at Standing Rock Tunnel. An extra freight train crashed into a pile driver train with a boarding car attached. The pile driver train was backing with the boarding car in front when the two trains met in the middle of the tunnel. Conductor Nick Hill, of the pile driver train, and six or seven occupants of the boarding car were killed.

WHAT costs nothing, as a rule, is worth little or nothing.

Strikers Felled.
The coke strikers at the Kyle works, Uniontown, Pa., made another attempt to prevent the workmen from going to work Friday morning. At daybreak they surrounded the houses of the men and held them prisoners. The officials, noticing their absence, sent deputies to inquire into the trouble. The strikers dispersed. Only one shot was fired and no one was injured.

CONGRESSIONAL.

DAILY PROCEEDINGS OF BOTH HOUSE AND SENATE.

The Discussion of Important Measures Briefly Summarized.

In the house, Wednesday, the unanimous consent was refused for the consideration of McGinn's resolution for the investigation of the committee of the present industrial depression and after the failure of the committee for reports, the house in committee of the whole, considered the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill.

In the house, Thursday, the bill repealing section 9 of the act of 1890, governing the display of lights and signals on vessels at sea, with a view to preventing collisions, was passed. This was made necessary, it was explained, by reason of the failure of Great Britain to observe the convention of the International Marine Conference of 1889. The house then, at 12:30, went into committee of the whole to consider the agricultural appropriation bill.

The first half hour of Friday's session of the house was spent in passing a resolution to give the committee on railways and canals a clerk. That having been accomplished, the legislative and judicial appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1895, was taken up in committee of the whole. Under an agreement reached by the leaders after an hour's skirmishing general debate on the bill was closed at 5 o'clock, and the house voted to adjourn over Saturday.

The most of the afternoon was occupied with a discussion of the matter of "locking" members for absent days, which took a wide range. At 5 o'clock the house took a recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session to be for the consideration of private pension and relief bills.

The house, in committee of the whole, considered the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bills under the five minute rule Monday.

THE SENATE.

In the senate, Wednesday, Mr. Lodge offered a resolution reciting a statement in the New York Sun that bribes had been offered to certain senators to induce them to vote against the pending tariff bill, and signed articles in a Philadelphia paper stating that the senatorial committee had been made up as it now stands in consideration of a large sum of money paid for the purpose of the democratic party, and providing for the appointment of a committee of five senators to investigate those charges. The vice president asked Mr. Lodge what action he desired. Mr. Lodge stated that he asked for the present consideration of the resolution. Mr. Cookridge said: "Let it be printed and lie on the table." And under the rule the resolution went over until Thursday.

The tariff bill was taken up at noon, the pending question being number 27, of the chemical schedule, "flaxseed oil, refined and refined, raw, boiled or oxidized, 15 cents per gallon." The senate at Thursday's session adopted a resolution providing for the investigation of the charges of bribery in connection with the tariff bill, and the charges that the sugar trust has interfered with legislation. The latter part of the resolution was materially amended so as to include the fact whether or not the sugar trust has made any contributions to campaign or election purposes to any party, or to secure or defeat legislation on the tariff bill. The tariff bill was taken up at noon, and Mr. Gallinger spoke against it.

In the senate, Friday, the resolution for meetings of the senate at 10 a. m. daily, was taken up and agreed to without question or division. Immediately afterwards, however, a discussion was started by Mr. Sherman who was not in the chamber when it was offered, and knew nothing of the circumstances. In the course of the discussion Mr. Fry expressed the opinion that it was the duty of the republican side to defeat the tariff bill and resort to any and all parliamentary methods in doing so. He had not been able, however, to persuade the republican side to do this. On the contrary, it seemed to be the determination of the republican side to permit the bill to come to a vote after fair consideration. The discussion closed with frank notice by Mr. Chandler, not to act upon the theory that it had been decided by the republican side either that they would or that they would not filibuster against the passage of the bill. The resolution was voted on a second time and agreed to, and then, at 12:15, consideration of the tariff bill was resumed.

In the senate Saturday the tariff bill was taken up and Mr. Gallinger delivered the third portion of his speech against the bill. Mr. Gallinger closed at 1 p. m., and the regular consideration of the tariff bill began.

At 10:30 Monday morning the tariff bill was taken up, the pending question being the first item in schedule "O," metals and manufacturers of iron and steel, placing iron ore on dutiable list at forty cents per ton. Mr. Aldrich criticized the finance committee for reporting the amendment, and recalled the promise of Senator Mills in his speeches in New England in the campaign of 1892, that whenever the democrats returned to power they would give to the manufacturers of steel that section free coal, free iron ore and free pig iron. Mr. Mills said that so far as he was able he was in favor of giving to the manufacturers of iron and steel not only free coal, free iron ore and free pig iron, but also free iron and steel, and that if he had his way he would convert every customer of the steel industry into a school house to teach the truth to the people.

NEWS IN GENERAL.

A BRIEF SUMMARY OF IMPORTANT HAPPENINGS.

Showing What is Going On in Our Own and Foreign Lands.

The officials of the Ramsey Coke company at Monticello, Pa., have announced that every foreigner in their employ would be discharged as fast as possible, and their places be filled by negroes.

The big Shoenberger & Co. mill at Pittsburgh, Pa., employing 1,000 men, will shut down in all departments on account of the fuel famine. The employees of the iron and steel producing interests by reason of the strike is now very general.

Edmund Yates, author and journalist, was stricken with apoplexy at the Garrick theater, London, where Lytton's "Money" was played. He was removed to the Savoy hotel, where he died. Edmund Yates would have been sixty-three years old next July had he lived.

By the disastrous fire in Boston, Mass., 137 buildings were totally destroyed, partly burned, 484 families rendered homeless, and about 2,800 persons lost their homes. The fire broke out in the district fire chief after a poll of the district. The loss is about half a million.

New York dispatch says: Of the $5,000,000 stock of the new South Carolina and Georgia Railroad Company, the successors of the old South Carolina railroad, Charles Parsons takes $4,000,000, which carries control. Holders of the old bonds get a portion of the balance of the stock.

Three carloads of negro miners arrived at Cornwallville, Pa., Saturday morning. The men are to work in the Ramsey Coke Company in the Vanderbilt region. A committee of strikers attempted to board the cars, but were driven away by the Ramsey officials. Their advent has caused great excitement.

Fire broke out Sunday afternoon in the L-shaped building of the Julius Schol company, at Philadelphia. The damage on the stock of general furnishing goods, trimmings, etc., and fixtures will reach $75,000, on which there is an insurance of $55,000. This loss, together with the damage done adjoining property, will make the entire loss about $400,000.

In the federal court at San Antonio, Texas, Judge Massey, upon motion of the district attorney, dismissed the cases against twenty-two violators of the United States neutrality law who were participants in the Garza revolution. This lot embraces all of those under indictment, with the exception of Catalina Garza, the leader of the movement. Garza is now chief of police of Port Lima, Costa Rica.

A CITY ENGULFED.

Fearful Damage Done by Earthquake in Venezuela.

Advices were received at Washington Saturday from Paul Plummer, at Maracibo, dated May 6th, showing that the greatest damage of the Venezuelan earthquake was done on the famous San Carlos and Merida railway, nearly complete, in the Andes. The axis of the bridges, which lasted for some time, was also destroyed. Several stations were thrown down, the rails were broken apart and a number of lives were lost. Lagunillas, with all its inhabitants, disappeared entirely, a lake now occupying its site. In some places black water having a fetid odor was expelled from crevices in the earth. The earthquake is said to have been much worse than those of 1849 and 1875. At the latter, the flourishing city of Cuenca, Colombia, was demolished and 5,000 persons lost their lives. The Venezuelan minister at Washington has been asked to relieve the contribution in this country for the relief of the sufferers of the catastrophe.

A Big Church Assembly.

The 10th general assembly of the Presbyterian church of the United States opened its session at Saratoga, Thursday. Six hundred commissioners from 230 Presbyterian churches all over the world were present.

COXEY IN JAIL.

BROWNE AND JONES WILL KEEP HIM COMPANY.

They Go from the Washington Police Court Handcuffed.

Coxey, Browne and Jones were sentenced by Judge Miller in the Washington police court Monday afternoon to twenty days in jail for violating the statute of the United States prohibiting the display of partisan banners in the capital grounds, and Coxey and Browne were fined $5 each additional for trespassing on the grass, the alternative being another ten days in jail. Jones was acquitted on this last charge.

The proceedings preliminary to the passing of sentence were in line with the series of extraordinary incidents that have marked the whole trial. Judge Miller asked the usual question whether the defendants had anything to say why sentence should not be passed.

Representative Hudson, of Kansas, counsel of Coxey's counsel, immediately rose and delivered a political address. As an American citizen, he said, he could not help stating that he had considerable contempt for the government in its prosecution of this case. Every point had been decided against the defendants.

Browne then addressed the court, comparing the jury to those who had participated in the crucifixion. He finally said he believed the few hours or days or months he would pass in jail would do more to help the cause than his feeble voice could.

Then the judge told the defendants that he could send them to jail for 120 days and then $200 each, but he would not do so. He wished, he said, that Coxey and Browne had so de-nominal sentence that more than a nominal sentence would be necessary, but their demerit was not changed this feeling. Judge Miller then imposed the sentence given above twenty days imprisonment in the district jail for all three defendants and $5 fine or ten days additional imprisonment for Coxey and Browne.

In the "BLACK MARIA." AT FIVE MINUTES OF 12 o'clock, Coxey, Browne and Jones, with handcuffs on their wrists, were placed in the "Black Maria" with a dozen white and negro slaves, laborers, who were not handcuffed, and the company, and the jail immediately conveyed them to the jail.

Before going to the police court to receive sentence, and apparently without any anticipation of the actual outcome, Coxey prepared an elaborate proclamation, which he furnished to the press.

At five minutes of 12 o'clock, Coxey, Browne and Jones, with handcuffs on their wrists, were placed in the "Black Maria" with a dozen white and negro slaves, laborers, who were not handcuffed, and the company, and the jail immediately conveyed them to the jail.

A Popular European Ruler.

Edward Hildane says in the St. Louis Star-Sayings that to-day Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, is the most popular monarch in all Europe—popular with all classes and divisions of his subjects, and all took pride in having a part in the recent celebration of his fortieth wedding anniversary.

Where will it end? What will be the result of the states finally put us? In 1861 the total value of all the property in the states that preceded was $3,000,000,000. The New Orleans Picayune suggests that in view of the enormous expense of the war it would have been more economical if the north and south had settled their differences on a cash basis.

It would have saved billions of dollars and hundreds of thousands of lives if the north had secured the emancipation of the slaves by paying full price for the entire 4,000,000 of them.

When we get through paying for it history will record the fact that our civil war was the most expensive conflict in ancient or modern times.

Nothing on earth will take children through the trying ordeal of teething so pleasantly, and so very surely and safely, as Dr. King's Royal Pectoral. They will like to take it, and it acts like magic in meeting the troubles of that critical period. Thousands have tried it, and it has never been known to fail.

A Very Expensive War.

The civil war cost the north $9,000,000,000. The pensions since have amounted to $1,500,000,000. But this is not all. At the present time, nearly thirty years after the close of the war, 300,000 more persons are drawing pensions than there were union troops in the field at any single time during the struggle, and 700,000 applications remain to be acted upon. Already, our pension expenses exceed those of all the nations of the earth.

Where will it end? What will be the result of the states finally put us? In 1861 the total value of all the property in the states that preceded was $3,000,000,000. The New Orleans Picayune suggests that in view of the enormous expense of the war it would have been more economical if the north and south had settled their differences on a cash basis.

It would have saved billions of dollars and hundreds of thousands of lives if the north had secured the emancipation of the slaves by paying full price for the entire 4,000,000 of them.

When we get through paying for it history will record the fact that our civil war was the most expensive conflict in ancient or modern times.

World You Like to "Shake" Stalrin. In the case of getting rid of it, instead of having it

The public received its first knowledge this week that in addition to other more or less disreputable methods of defeating tariff legislation attempts had been made to bribe Senators to vote against the tariff bill, but the democratic managers of the tariff bill have known for some time that an attempt had been made by a lobbyist named Buttz, once a carpet-bag republican member of the House from South Carolina, to bribe Senators Hantou, of Virginia, and Kyle, of South Dakota, to vote against the bill. Buttz claimed to represent a wealthy syndicate which was prepared to spend $1,000,000 to defeat the tariff bill. He went to the home of Senator Hantou and told a son of that gentleman that his father could have $25,000 if he would agree to vote against the bill. Senator Hantou at once informed half a dozen democratic Senators. Buttz had the audacity to broach the subject to Mr. Kyle in person. That gentleman referred him to his private secretary, after instructing that functionary to have a witness that conversation, and in the presence of a witness Buttz offered to give Mr. Kyle $14,000 to vote against the bill. Mr. Kyle at once placed these facts in the hands of the democratic Senators and expressed his willingness to aid in bringing this would-be briber to justice. It has not yet been decided what, if any, action will be taken by the Senate, but there is little doubt that these accounts will hasten the passage of the tariff bill.

Secretary Hoke Smith has added to his popularity with Georgians by the help he has given the delegation from Atlanta, here this week to work up Congressional interest in the International Exposition to be held at Atlanta in the fall of 1895. They do not want a government appropriation for the exposition, but only ask that Congress recognize it to the extent of authorizing a government exhibit in a building to be erected by the government. This recognition is necessary if foreign governments are to be represented at the exhibition. Speaker Crisp and the entire Georgia delegation in Congress are working like beavers to secure what is wanted, and the Speaker, before going home to attend his mother-in-law's funeral, placed his room at the Capitol at the disposal of the visitors and it is being used as their headquarters.

It is now easy to understand why this government took such strong grounds in favor of the government of Brazil and against the insurgents, although it was only this week that it became so. From information that has leaked out through gossip in diplomatic circles there is little doubt that the stand taken and maintained by President Cleveland during the Brazilian contest was the only thing that prevented the carrying out of the plot instigated and backed by the government of Great Britain, for the overthrow of the Brazilian republic and the setting up of a monarchy that would have been dominated by Great Britain. President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham have been conversant with the plot from its beginning and its determination to thwart it. The failure of the plot is believed to have been at the bottom of the dilatoriness of the British government in making arrangements to carry out the Behring Sea arbitration. The British were afraid at Uncle Sam for spoiling their little grab game.

Representative Hatch, of Missouri, is no longer a young man, having passed his sixtieth birthday last September, but his courage is just as young as it ever was, and when accused by Representative Hopkins, of Illinois, of trying to juggle an increase of salary for a friend into the agricultural appropriation bill, which is in his charge, he said, shaking his fist significantly at Hopkins: "If the gentleman from Illinois means that word in its ordinary English significance, I want to tell him that if he should use it to me on the side of this chamber, I would ram it down his throat."

Retrenchment in government expenditures has been the watchword of the democrats who have made the regular appropriation bills for this Congress, and the Legislative, Executive and Judicial appropriation bill, completed by the House committee on appropriations this week, shows how well they have worked up to the watchword. This is the bill that carries salaries of all officials, and 558 fewer of them are provided for than were in the bill for the current fiscal year. It also carries $760,100 less than this year's appropriation, a very substantial reduction when everything is taken into consideration.

"Distance lends enchantment to the view." Since Covey moved his traps out to Bladenburg, Md., Washington has lost all interest in them, but a carload of flour and some such has this week come to them from Missouri and Colorado, showing that there are people who have not yet seen them as they are.

Candidate Atkinson should not lose his temper. The way is long and the weather is hot.
